

Relationship Refresh: From Stagnation to Transformation

Whether it's colleagues, clients, customers, or stakeholders, Stephen will walk you through practical strategies and mindset shifts that will enable you to breathe new life into these vital connections. Through engaging anecdotes and real-world examples, you will witness the remarkable power of relationship refresh in action. Unlock new opportunities, fuel innovation, and drive sustainable growth.

This program is perfect for:

- Result-oriented leaders who are seeking to navigate conflicts and challenging conversations in a productive and respectful manner.
- Progressive association members, frontline employees and leaders who are looking to deepen connections, build trust, and foster meaningful collaborations with unprecedented results.
- Proactive leaders in human resources and organizational development professionals striving to create productive connections that inspire high performance.

The audience will leave with:

- A deliberate approach to being fully present, develop meaningful relationships and impact positive change.
- An actionable understanding of the Meaningful Communication Quadrants and how to maximize their relationships both professional and personal.
- A deeper commitment to investing in relationships and practical skills to shift their mental chatter at work with the Look Who's Talking Model.

Please ask us about our Engaging Virtual Keynotes, Workshops and Social Media Takeovers